Obituary.

Mr. John W. Hemit, son of the ate Wesley Huiatt and wife, was sern May 18, 1863, in the southern part of this county, where he grew to man's estate. He was killed by an engine, on the K. C. St. J. & C. B. R. R., on the line between Andrew and Holt counties, near Nodaway Station Missouri, at 2:50 a.m., on the morning of August 14, 1892, at the age of 29 years, 4 months and 25 days

Some time last spring, Mr. Huiatt removed with his family to St. Joseph and found employment in the Bridge and Iron Company of that city.
On last Saturday might, he and a fellow workman took the north bound midnight train on the above road, to go to his mothers to spend the day and return on the next night train. The two got off the train at Norlaway and started up the track behind the train they had just left. They had not gone far till they became aware that there was an engine coming behind them, but as there was water on either sale of the track, they continued at a rapid pure, hoping to reach a dump upon which they could stand. The gentleman who was with Mr. Humit, was a few steps in front, locked around and called out, "jump, John, its right on us!" at the same time, leaping from the track just in time to avoid instant death, while his unfortun-ate companion was hurled into eternity. His right limb was broken in three places, his right arm broken, some bolt or other instrument driven through his head, and the upper right side of his head croshed in. The remains were taken back to the station, and the sad news of his death conveyed to the home of his mother, followed a few hours later by the mangled body. Word was sent to his wife to come by first train, but she knew not the worst until she reached Nodaway, where the terrible story of her husband's death was broken to her. Squire Carroll conducted the inquest over the body and found the facts to be substantially as above stated.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. T.

D. Roberts, at the residence of the de consed's mother, S miles southeast of Oregon, which was largely strended on August 15. The remains were buried in the cemetery near by. Mr. Huiatt leaves a wife, three children, mother, 3 brotheswand one sister to mourn his tragic death, and they have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their sorrow. How well the following scripture describes such a death:

"For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare; so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them, Ecclesiastic, 9:12. TIMEAN.

Walker infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Vogan, living one-half mile south of Oregon, was born February 8, 1890, and died after one week of sickness, August 15, 1892, aged 2 years, 6 months and 7 days old. The funeral ri'es were conducted at the family residence, by Rev. T. D. Roberts, at 9 n.m., on August 16, after which the remains of the little one were laid to rest in Maple Grove cemetery to await the voice of a greater than Elijah, who brought to life the widow's little boy, 1 Kings, 17:17-23.

"Within this tomb an infant lies, To earth whose body leat. reafter shall more glorious rise,

But not more innocent.

And souls to bodies join, What crowds shall wish their lives below Had been as short as thine.'

She was married to Harry Matteson in October, 1872, and they lived in Savannah and St. Joseph the greater part of their married life. They moved from St. Joseph to Forest City, Mo., in the spring of 1891. Sister Mutteson was sick when they moved to Forest City, and she suffered for three years previous to her death and during it all she was patient and kind to all. And after this long and lingering suffering she passed away from earth to heaven Sunday, Aug. 7, 1892, She leaves a nusband and one daughter, prothers and sisters, besides a large circle of friends, to mourn their loss.
